Your Destiny, also known as your Life Path is 19/1

A '1' Life Path is about individualization and action. People on this Life Path are here to learn about the self: the importance of believing in yourself and about your need to be independent.

As a "1" you can benefit from changes and travel and are advised to pursue a career that gives you some freedom. You are self motivated and you automatically and easily assume the role of leader. A subordinate role is not an option. You have a magnetic personality. You are a pioneer and you have many creative, inventive and original ideas -- some may even be unusual. Your approach to situations and problems and life in general is quite unique and you are amazingly creative and innovative.

You are forward-driven and interested in what is new and progressive. So much so that others may find it difficult to keep up with you. You can be hypersensitive to the resistance (and opinions) of others and hence may also become disappointed when others do not share your enthusiasm or passion.

This fast paced energy can make you a bit impatient. You want things done right now and as flawlessly as possible (you're a bit of a perfectionist). You can be like a think tank and it is no surprise if you have trouble sleeping at night - - it is difficult for you to shut off all the mind chatter.

You are courageous and hence not afraid to be controversial. Yet, ironically, you may look for the approval of others and this can be a trap on this Life Path. That is not to say that you should ignore the suggestions of others, but it is vitally important that you have faith in your convictions and not depend on others for their endorsement. You are naturally intuitive

You have a strong drive and determination for achievement and you are competitive. Most 1's prefer to run their own business or at least have a career where they are in a position of authority and can work alone and uninterrupted.....

A Karmic 19 Life Path is more about expressing your creative and healing energies, developing real self confidence and balancing the energies between head and heart. You may have the tendency to over process things through the intellect. You are likely guilty of worry and indecision and must find constructive outlets for your overactive mind to direct it away from worry and fear. The best remedy is to find some expression of your creativity. An interest in spiritual or metaphysics should be cultivated if you are to know more peace in your life. Other challenges to overcome with a Karmic 19 Life Path are issues of insecurity, possibly addictions and for some, physical maladies. In relationships you may feel "cut off" from others and hence live alone in your head. Intimacy doesn't come easily for a 19/1. At some point you may realize that you have fears of abandonment and betrayal that must be dealt with along the way. You have a special inner power that can only be accessed by turning your attention within.

Your Progressed Chart for the year 2019

A Progressed Chart is a forecast of the "energies" or forces that will influence your life during the course of any calendar year and from your birthday to birthday. These energies are referred to as "Transits" and are based on your name and your full birth date.

Your Astrological House Transit for age 36-37 is 1

“The forecast for the future is nothing but a reflection of the past”

Your Astrological House Transit (AHT) begins to narrow down even more some of the specifics of the year.

The Astrological House Transit is based on your current age and operates from birthday to birthday. The general aspects of a 1 AHT are:

- Self and self- image
- Action
- How you appear to others as well as your influence on others
- Publicity
- Help from others

The 1 AHT rules who you are, what you look like and how you view the world. It is a “me” vibration. It is more about your wants and desires than what others want.

Quite often when people enter this transit they may feel as if they want a partial or complete makeover, whether it is physically, emotionally and/or mentally. It creates a feeling of independence and increases your resolve to accomplish your goals. You will be inclined to not want to tolerate what you did in the past and may hear yourself saying “that’s enough” more than once. People will pay more attention to you while this transit is in effect and your sphere of influence can increase.

Letter Transits

The Letter Transits are the individual letters of your name that, depending on their number value will transit for a certain number of years.

As an example, the first letter of your first name is ‘C.’ The letter C has a number value of 3 and this letter was in transit from birth to age 3. The second letter of your first name is the letter “O” with a number value of 6 and was in transit from age 3-9. Each letter thereafter is calculated the same way- by its number value.

All Transits appear as part of your Progressed Chart and describe specific influences taking place in your life during given years.

Your Physical Transit for age 36 is C

This is a most creative letter and most people find that under its transit they are engaged in some form of creative outlet. You have a strong desire to communicate your ideas, thoughts and opinions with others this year and as such it is a good year to work on your ability to communicate with others.....

Your Spiritual Transit for age 37 is 0

This Transit indicates much responsibility being placed on your shoulders. There may also be sensitive emotional issues having to do with home and significant others.....

Your Personal Year for 2019

The Personal Year is the main and controlling vibration in the life of any individual. The Personal Year operates for everyone from Jan.1 - Dec. 31. The overtones of the Personal Year will begin to weaken from Oct. - Dec as the incoming vibrations begin to take effect. The personal year numbers range from 1-9. After you have completed a 9 year cycle, the cycle will repeat itself, beginning again with the number 1.

In theory, the vibrations or “energy” of that particular year will present opportunities for spiritual growth. You will find certain years seem better than others for love, money and health. I suggest that as much as possible go with the flow of the year. This is one way to cooperate with the universal vibrations and will help to eliminate much of the problems in any given year.

Your Personal Year for 2019 is 2

Perseverance and Patience

In contrast to last year’s outgoing and assertive energy, the key words this year are patience, cooperation and slowing down. It can be a year of delays and equally true a year of advantages. Overall it is a year that is full of dualities. It is a review and examination of your past, present and future and detecting any patterns.....

..... you have reached the point in your life that you are ready to move on to better things and relationships. Sometimes we are afraid to let go of things that have become so familiar to us and unable to see the benefit of letting go....

Finances

During this year you will learn some valuable lessons about money and its role in your life. You may find yourself often confronted with financial outlays of one kind or another and your inner attitudes about money and your own level of inner prosperity. If you find yourself up against financial problems of one sort or another this year, ask yourself if you are in a state of fear or a state of relaxation about money and things in your life.... A cycle of money going out is always followed by cycles of money coming back in.....

....The number 2 is feminine in nature and will bring in all sorts of female or “yin” related energy. Dealings... and issues... with females- family, friends, acquaintances will be the main focus-anything that is female related. The 2 is also about partnerships and anything having to do with partnering whether that's business, intimate or any close personal relationship will also be accented this year.

If you can step back a bit and be more of the "observer" of your life, you will gain valuable information. You will become much more sensitive to the higher realms of consciousness and hence tap into this invaluable information offered to you when you quiet your mind. Allow yourself to "feel" your feelings. You don't have to act aggressively or confront anyone with anger. Just ask yourself "what do I need to know or understand about this?" Trust me... if you're open and receptive you'll receive an answer.....

.....yet true to its duality of the year, it can also bring deceit and deception from females. There may be confrontations with others and as a reminder you will need tact to keep yourself moving forward. Use this year to develop self confidence, spiritual awareness and knowledge, perfect what is already in your life and practice cooperation.... A good time for doing therapy and working on cleaning up past debris that blocks your present happiness.
